

PURELY PERSONAL

The Movements of many People, New-berrians, and Those Who Visit Newberry.

Mr. J. D. Quattlebaum of Prosperity is in the West buying mules.

Gone to dwell among the twinkling stars—the price of gasoline.

Our idea of preparedness—digging trenches for an in-dig-nation meeting.

Now give us a gallon-a-month law for gasoline please.

The newly elected city council will be sworn in on Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

Weather forecast for Christmas—Sweater, but if she won't sweat, then cooler.

You might silence your wife by giving her a muffler for a Christmas present.

The Newberry cotton mill will close down on Thursday until Tuesday for the Christmas holidays.

At this season of the year the most effective road working machine is the split log drag.

Recent bridegrooms may now add to their expense accounts another item—chicken food.

If you give to those who are able to give in return, while the needy at your door remain in want, what have you accomplished?

Saturday night last at 7:30 the freshman-senior basketball contest resulted in a score of 35 to 20 in favor of the freshmen.

When the roads are wet and hub deep in mud, give us a mule twin six. Cannon crackers are almost as noisy as Georgia crackers.

Necessity being the mother of invention, ain't it about time for her to wake up and invent a substitute for gasoline?

Names are wanted for artillery company.—Headline. If they are wanted for ammunition or for target practice, we know of several we'd gladly put you on to.

Mr. Custis L. Leitzsey, carrier on route 2 of Silverstreet, took 23 money orders one day last week, 22 for whiskey and one for Sunday school literature.

Mr. George O. Koon, who has been overseeing Mr. J. A. Burton's Scott place, will move to Mrs. R. L. Schaumpert's roller mill place and Mr. Jake Hunt will move to the Scott place.

The Newberry Savings bank Christmas savings club is now open and the officers of the bank will be glad to have you call and let them explain it to you. It is a good thing. It encourages savings.

The Christmas service, "The Wondrous Night," supplemented by other recitations, will be rendered by the St. Luke's Lutheran Sunday school on Saturday, December 25, beginning at 7 p. m. Every one welcome.

On Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock there will be a recital by the pupils of Miss Rawl's school at the studio on Main street. Patrons and friends are cordially invited to be present.

There will be a white Christmas tree service at the First Baptist church on next Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock. Further details of the exercises and the envelopes for the offerings will be given out at the regular Sunday school service next Sunday morning.

A few mornings ago a small boy on his way to school was lustily blowing a tiny whistle. "Hello, young man," called out the reporter; "what brass band do you belong to?" "Hagood Clary's," he responded promptly and proceeded down the street tooting his little whistle.

There will be a Christmas tree at Long Lane school house on Christmas day, beginning at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Those expecting to place presents on the tree please have them at the school house not later than 11 o'clock in Christmas day. Adults will be charged 10 cents admission.

The heavy boom of fire works at Christmas time making one jump clear out of his peaceful sleep, is bad enough but if sure-enough weapons and engines of war were roaring and hurling broadcast sharp pieces of iron and lead it would be a long sight worse, so let us be thankful for what we are about to receive.

Helen Satterwhite, colored, forfeited a ten dollar bond in the recorder's court Monday morning. She was charged with stealing a dress from the store of J. L. Minnaugh. She had hidden the dress in the leaves near the residence of Mr. L. W. Floyd, where it was found by some one in kicking up the leaves.

Caldwell & Haltiwanger announce today that on the first of January they will move to the Mower corner. This is one of the most desirable locations in the city and Caldwell & Haltiwanger will continue to carry a large line of ladies ready to wear and all the latest in millinery and dress goods, and with their large store in Columbia, can give the ladies anything they may want and at prices that are right.

Miss Julia Kibler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Kibler of Newberry, who is teaching in the graded schools of Bamberg, had the misfortune to lose her entire wardrobe by fire one day last week. In some manner fire originated in the closet and before it could be controlled by the bucket brigade the entire wardrobe was either burned or badly damaged by fire.

Mr. F. M. Lindsay received a message Monday afternoon conveying the sad intelligence that his sister, Mrs. A. J. Walling of Pinopolis, who has been very ill for some time, had passed away that morning at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Walling was 78 years of age and the only surviving member of the family is Mr. Lindsay. Mr. Lindsay has the sympathy of the entire community.

Harmann-Adams.

An event of much interest to their many friends was the surprise marriage on December 18th of Miss Y. Genia Harmann of Prosperity and Mr. W. P. Adams of Greenville. The marriage took place in Columbia. Soon after marriage the couple went South on their wedding trip. They will return to make their home in Greenville, S. C., Mr. Adams being connected with Meyers, Arnold Co., of that city. The bride has been a resident of Prosperity from childhood and enjoys an unusual popularity both in her home town and throughout the state. Greenville is to be congratulated upon having her as its resident.

PASTOR HERMAN W. STONE WILL SERVE WEST END

Rev. Herman W. Stone of Anderson will begin his pastorate with West End Baptist church in this city January first.

Mr. Stone is 32 years of age, educated at Furman university, and has been preaching for the past ten years. He has been very successful in the ministry and comes to this work very highly recommended by the churches he is now serving.

A man of energy and ability and a gentleman of high Christian culture, we welcome him to our city and church work, and to Reedy River Baptist association.

Attention Pensioners.

I will be in the auditor's office each Saturday in January to prepare pension blanks. Widows whose husbands were on the pension roll do not have to prove the service of their husbands, but have to sign the application and get the auditor's certificate as to property owned. Do not wait until the last day.

W. G. Peterson,
Pension Commissioner.

Wedman-Brown.

Saturday evening at 8:30, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. D. A. Livingston, in Summer street, Miss Ollie Wedman and Mr. James G. Brown were happily married, the Rev. Edw. Fulenwider officiating. The happy pair left on the 9 o'clock Southern train for Florida, where they will remain for a week or ten days, after which they will return and make their home in Newberry.

SOCIETY.

Glasgow-Smith.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Glasgow on Wednesday evening, December 15, at 6 o'clock, when their daughter, Mattie Amelia, became the wife of Mr. James Montgomery Smith of Newberry. The guests were received at the front door by Miss Lucile Wallace and Mr. Jesse Mayes and ushered to the parlor. This room was beautifully decorated with green and white. The improvised altar from which the ceremony was solemnized was festooned with garlands of tulle and smilax from the center of which hung a lovely white basket showered with bride's roses. Just before the bridal party entered, Mrs. Ernest Douglas Easterby sang in her charming manner "O Promise Me" and "I Know a Lovely Garden."

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Lillian Blackwell, the bridal party entered. First came the bridesmaids, Miss Harriet Easterby and Mary Wallace. Miss Easterby was gown in a lovely white crepe de chine draped with chiffon and carried pink carnations. Next entered the maid of honor, Miss Ruth Easterby, with the best man, Mr. Derrill Smith, brother of the groom. Miss Easterby wore a beautiful gown of white crepe de chine and carried pink carnations. The bride then entered on the arm of the groom.

She was beautiful in her wedding gown of ivory white crepe meteor with trimmings of tulle, real lace and orange blossoms. Her veil was draped at the head with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was white bride's roses and lilies of the valley. After the ring ceremony, which was performed by Revs. Burriss and Kerr, the bridal party were invited into the dining room by Mesdames F. C. Sligh and H. L. Parr. The color scheme was pink and white.

The table was beautiful with its cover of French cluny, in the center of which was a cut glass vase of pink carnations and bowls of pink and white mints. Pink and white cream was cut by Mrs. E. D. Easterby and cake by Mrs. W. F. Ewart, and was served by Misses Annie Belle Sligh, Mary Lou Glasgow, Mary Chalmers, Ida Folk and Cora Ewart.

From here Mrs. Clarence M. Smith invited the guests into the gift room, where delicious black coffee and wafers were served by Misses Alma Easterling, Blanch Smith and Mr. Richard Floyd. This room was beautiful with its decorations of holly and mistletoe. The bride's register was presided over by Miss Lois Glasgow and Mr. Forster Smith.

Mr. Smith is a prosperous young business man of Newberry and Mrs. Smith is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Glasgow. The popularity of the young couple was shown by many and handsome gifts they received.

During the reception the bride and groom slipped away for paths unknown.

The bride's going-away suit was of brown chiffon broadcloth with accessories to match.

The out of town guests were Misses Alma Easterling of McColl, Lillian Blackwell of Darlington, Harriet and Ruth Easterby, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest D. Easterby, Mrs. A. D. Easterby of Laurens, A. B. Weathersbee of Belton, Mrs. Samuel Lipscomb of New York, Mr. A. C. Sligh and Miss Annie Belle Sligh of Dyson, Messrs. Thos. T. Smith and Chas. A. Willard of Spartanburg.

Little Pauline Klettner celebrated her seventh birthday anniversary with a most delightful party Friday afternoon. All the little guests brought gifts, thus forestalling old Santa Claus. After a number of games had been played, cream and cake were served and each child was given a surprise package to take home with them.

Among the little guests were Mattie Senn, Gladys Williams, Lillian Bedenbaugh, Thelma Bolles, Travis Melton, Ernestine Melton, Mildred Jones, Quantha Hodge, Evelyn Baker and Masters Carlisle Kennedy, Thos. Spearman, William Bauknight, John Boozer, Earl Turner, Jas. Wherry and Harry Lurez.

The Friday Afternoon Rook club met with Miss Gladys Chappell. Holly and mistletoe decorated the room and quite a number of interesting games were played, after which most delightful refreshments were served.

The Saturday sewing circle had a busy and delightful meeting with Mrs. P. E. Way at her home on College street. Tongues and fingers were both kept busy for several hours, after which Mrs. Way served an appetizing sweet course.

Jasper chapter, D. A. R., is arranging a musical program in connection with a silver tea to be given on the 30th at Mrs. W. H. Hunt's residence. The program will consist of piano solos and duets, vocal solos and violin numbers, contributed by the best talent of the city. There are to be also readings by home talent and the affairs will be most entertaining.

O'Neill School.

Dr. Geo. Y. Hunter, by invitation of the Rural Improvement association, will make an address at O'Neill school house Thursday night, December 23, at 7:30. He will speak along lines of rural improvement and will lay special stress upon the need of and benefit to be derived from the community fair to be held next fall at Prosperity. The doctor always has something practical to say and those who remain at home will miss a rare treat.

Also bear in mind the "Old Maid Auction."
